Post-Doctoral Researcher (1 Vacancy) (CES/09/2025-PD-CO3)

The Centre for Social Studies (CES) – Associate Laboratory - University of Coimbra (Portugal), invites applications for (1) one Post-Doctoral Researcher position (CES/09/2025-PD-CO3) in the project in the Horizon project “CO3 – Continuous Construction of resilient Social Contracts through Societal Transformations” (GA: 101132631), funded by the European Commission, coordinated at CES by Vanda Amaro Dias and Cristiano Gianolla.

CES provides a stimulating intellectual environment in the domain of social sciences and humanities. The project is part of the research line (Semi-)Peripheral Capitalism: Crises and Alternatives, which aims at deepening the knowledge indispensable towards the construction of sustainable societies, from a social, political, ecological and security point of view. To this end, attention is given to the material and institutional structures of the economy, to the international dynamics of peripheralization, to the complexity of work as a structuring dimension of contemporary life, to the multidimensional and multiscale conditions of democracy and the public sphere, and to participatory and inclusive forms of organisation of society.

A. Project Description

Project title: “CO3 - Continuous Construction of Resilient Social Contracts through Societal Transformations”

Based on the analyses of the limitations of, and challenges to the social contracts in political theorising and practices, CO3 aims at developing and promoting a more democratic, more inclusive and more open model of social contracts, which manifest political and social resilience in the face of major societal challenges, crises, and anti-democratic tendencies. Drawing from 8 empirical case studies in EU member states, and in 3 non-member states, CO3 researches safeguards and mechanisms for resilient social contracts overtime. While the theoretical ambition of the CO3 project is to analyse how the contemporary theories of the social contract contribute to our understanding of the social contracts in the current crises-driven European political environment, the empirical ambition is to investigate contradictions and tensions between practices, narratives and lived experiences in social contracts across Europe through concrete cases. As a result, CO3 generates evidence-based knowledge on the safeguards and mechanisms for promoting resilient social contracts, which support citizen involvement and democracy across Europe.
